Roxy is a rising star in the media industry that won't stop until she makes it to the top. A Caribbean-American, from Trinidad & Tobago, Roxy graduated from the University of Central Florida with a degree in Communications and Marketing. While attending college, she was given the opportunity to host her own show on an underground radio station while, at the same time, was asked to host her own local TV show, Caribbean Beats. Roxy has had the media bug ever since.

Upon completing an internship with Cox Media, Roxy moved back to Miami and immediately got hired at iHeart Media. During her 10 year professional career, Roxy has had the opportunity to interview the likes of Will Smith to Sarah Jessica Parker to the Vice-President of the United States, Joe Biden. Roxy has been doing the night show on Y100 for the past 3 years. She can also be heard on 103.5 the Beat (Miami), 93.7 the Beat (Houston), My 939 Miami, Star 92.7 (Cayman) and over 30+ other stations nationally as she is an iHeart Media Premium Choice talent. Roxy's versatility, allows her access to Top 40, Rhythmic, and Urban radio stations, and she stays in the know all across the board. Regardless of what station she happens to be on at the moment, she never misses an opportunity to let her listeners know how proud she is of her West Indian roots. During her radio career, Roxy's voice became one of the most sought after in the market, voicing ads for brands such as BET, Macys, Coca-Cola, Smirnoff and AT&T. She has been voicing radio and TV commercials and imaging radio stations for over 5 years now and continues to spread her wings, expanding within the radio industry.

Aside from social media, Roxy also loves to connect face-to-face with the people she talks to everyday and hosting events is one way she gets to do that. She has hosted large festivals and concerts like Miami Carnival, Miami Reggae Festival, and Y100's Jingle Ball, which attracts anywhere upwards of 15,000 attendees. On an intimate scale, Roxy also hosts functions like Macy's fashion shows, Miami Art Basel events, and the Under 40 Group's Networking Events.

Roxy is also a devout philanthropist. She has hosted a number of events for The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, as well as the American Cancer Society. Roxy has also run both a half and full marathon to raise money for cancer research. Charity is something extremely important to her. Roxy believes helping other is our duty as human beings.

Roxy has also received a number of accolades. Most recently, she was named one of "The Top 40 Under 40 Leaders of Today and Tomorrow" published by South Florida's Legacy Magazine June 2014.

Roxy is building a brand based off of integrity, passion, dedication, and her faith in God.
